

PORTUGUESE COLONIAL CITIES

“Planta da Restituição da Bahia”, Albernaz I, João Teixeira (1631): detalhe.

PORTUGUESE COLONIAL CITIES

Local Dynamics, Global Flows (c.1500-1900)

Maria Sarita Mota
Cláudia C. Azeredo Atallah
Rodrigo da Costa Dominguez
(Editors)

Editorial Teseo
Buenos Aires

2022

ISBN 978-1-911693-08-6

CONTENTS

Acknowledges

Illustrations

Introduction

On colonial cities of the Portuguese empire. Themes and debates

Maria Sarita Mota, Cláudia C. Azeredo Atallah, Rodrigo da Costa Dominguez

Part I – Labor and inequalities in the Atlantic cities

1. Excellent rowers of the Navy Arsenal: Recruitment and indigenous labor in Rio de Janeiro (1763-1820)
Silene Orlando Ribeiro
2. Cabeças and escravos novos: Widespread social commitment to slavery and inequality (Luanda and Rio de Janeiro, 1798-1833)
Roberto Guedes & Ana Paula Bôscaro

Part II – Political apparatus and Administration of Justice

3. The political apparatus of Luanda and Lisbon at the end of the Ancient Régime
José Subtil
4. Lisbon, Goa and Bahia: Imperial cities in the construction of a multicontinental judicial system (16th-18th centuries)
Nuno Camarinhas

Part III – Boundaries and inland cities

5. Arraial do Tejuco: The multiple geographies of a colonial urbe
Júnia Ferreira Furtado
6. Beyond the Municipal Council: Pluricontinental frontier towns in the hinterlands of Bahia and Minas Gerais
Judy Bieber & Héliida Santos Conceição
7. From hinterlands to coffee production: São Paulo do Muriahé in the long 19th century
Vitória Schettini

Part IV – Cities between the Atlantic and the Amazon Rainforest

8. São Luís in Imperial Iberian Politics: From conquered land to seat of the State of Maranhão and Grão-Pará (Brazil)
Helidacy Muniz Corrêa & José Damião Rodrigues
9. São Luís do Maranhão and Belém do Grão-Pará: Cities and the territorial and economic expansion of the Portuguese colonial Amazon region
Raphael Chambouleyron & Alírio Cardoso

Part V – Going global: producing urban networks, slaves, and plagues

10. Early Globalization in a corner of the Atlantic: Recife and the global Atlantic Economy, c. 1500-1850
Gustavo Acioli
11. Luanda: Global Capital of the Slave Trade
Maximiliano Mac Menz & Wolfgang Lenk
12. Plague in Portugal: between the local and the global (1700-1899)
Matheus Alves Duarte da Silva

Notes on contributors

Referees